January 12th -Michael Broughton:

After earning a BFA in Theatre with an emphasis on Design and Technology, Michael Broughton spent 11 years working professionally in theatre, dance, and live events. He served as a Master Electrician for Merry-Go-Round Playhouse and Portland Center Stage before moving into a Facilities and Operations role with the launch of the Finger Lakes Musical Theatre Festival, where he also served as Production Manager for a season. He now works in educational technology at Cornell University, where the AV and project management skills he gained working in theatre have been invaluable.
